"Reseña del editor La primera parte de la saga a cuatro manos que sigue con Casa Negra. Es un ventoso día otoñal en una playa del gris océano Atlántico, al lado del silenciado parque de atracciones y el apagado pueblo de Alhambra. Un chico de doce años, de nombre Jack, ha llegado aquí empujado por las circunstancias: su padre ha fallecido, su madre está agonizando y nada tiene ya sentido. Pero para Jack todo está a punto de cambiar, pues, aunque aún lo ignora, ha sido elegido para emprender un viaje a través de los misteriosos Territorios. Jack Sawyer, en su desesperado intento de salvarle la vida a su madre, ha de buscar el Talismán en aquel paisaje épico, hogar de monstruos e inocentes, donde habita la esperanza y también mucho más. En 1984, Stephen King y Peter Straub unieron sus talentos para escribir esta extraordinaria novela de iniciación sobre la lealtad, el miedo y lo desconocido. Se trata de la primera parte de una historia épica que sigue en Casa Negra, concebida dieciséis años después. La crítica ha dicho...«Una historia fascinante y única que compite con las mayores aventuras de todos los tiempos.»New York Daily News «Extraordinaria.»The Washington Post Biografía del autor Stephen King es autor de más de cincuenta libros, todos best seller internacionales. Sus títulos más recientes son El visitante, Bellas durmientes (con su hijo Owen King), El bazar de los malos sueños, la trilogía «Bill Hodges», compuesta por Mr Mercedes, Quien pierde paga y Fin de guardia; y Doctor Sueño. Su novela 22/11/63 (convertida en serie de televisión en Hulu) fue elegida por The New York Times Book Review como una de las diez mejores novelas de 2011 y por Los Angeles Times como la mejor novela de intriga del año. Sus libros de la serie «La Torre Oscura» e It han sido adaptados al cine. Le han sido concedidos los premios 2018 PEN America Literary Service Award, 2014 National Medal of Arts y 2003 National Book Foundation Medal for Distinguished Contribution to American Letters. Vive en Bangor, Maine, con su esposa Tabitha King, también novelista."
