"Pressestimmen A monument to the women of Terezín who saw beyond indescribable horror and sent the food of their hearts to nourish ours.--NewsweekThe work of women whose memories were distorted by starvation, the book born in Terezín is both intimate and disturbing--a poignant reminder of a lost world and a spirit that refused to die.--People MagazineNot a cookbook, though it has seventy recipes, but a Holocaust document, compiled as an act of defiance in a concentration camp--The New York TimesThose brave women contributed something of tremendous value, not simply an historical document but a lesson in humanity.--Los Angeles TimesA story of the survival of the spirit amid the horrors of the Holocaust.--The New York TimesCooking is this book's subject matter, but survival is its theme; it is both moving and paradoxical that this material was collected by starving internees.--Library JournalTheir food comes not from the concentration camp, but from their pasts, from the days when they had cooked in freedom, when they had dinners to plan and holidays to celebrate.--Associated PressThe precious pages of Mina Pachter's cookbook are full of snapshots of life before and during World War II, inside and outside the concentration camps.--The Review of Higher EducationA story of recipes and resistance.--Pbs, Jim Lehrer News Hour Synopsis Everyone eats, everyone has memories, and everyone has traditions. Written by undernourished and starving women in the Czechoslovakian concentration camp, 'In Memory's Kitchen' pages are filled with the recipes giving instructions for making beloved dishes in the rich, robust Czech tradition. Sometimes steps or ingredients are missing, the gaps a painful illustration of the condition and situation in which the authors lived. Reprinting the contents of the original hand sewn book, 'In Memory's Kitchen' is a beautiful memorial to the brave women who defied Hitler by preserving a part of their heritage and a part of themselves, proving that the Nazis could not break the spirit of the Jewish people.
